AGENCY UPDATES

NRCS (See attached report – no representative present)

AZ Land Water Trust (Yvonne Marshall) Zach MacDonald has left; so, the planning for a joint workshop has not progressed. They just closed a conservation easement on the Rain Valley ranch.

University of Az Cooperative Extension (Ashley Wright) They are still trying to hire a livestock specialist, based in Cottonwood, and should know within a week. They have a $1,000,000 grant for rural school programs, with funding available in May. The budgets are still frozen and no funds were dispensed last year. New World Screwworm (NWS) was detected in Nuevo Leon, the closest known case 70 miles south of the US border. That case is no longer active and the maggots found were dead since the animal had been through the treatment process in Veracruz before being transported north. Active cases are located 300-350 miles south of the Texas border. There are currently no known established adult fly populations in Nuevo Leon. Better testing is being developed and they are working with the US Department of Agriculture and Cattle Growers associations.

AZ Game & Fish Department (Nick Schobinger): Funding for the Landowner Relations program and Habitat Partnership Committee will be available this summer. The new wildlife manager for Units 35 A&B is in training for the new few weeks. Jeremiah Fountain is the Sector 8 wildlife manager supervisor. They have been working on a $24 million RCPP grant with AACD and Quail Forever and have received over 100 applications. Questions were asked about how the NRCDs will be notified about this grant. It was suggested to sign-up for emails from the Sentinel Landscape program. The Coordinator Resource Management meeting went well and AZ State Land Department will host next year's meeting.

Steven Prager, Ariel Leger & Nick Beauregard (Appleton-Whittle Research Ranch – Audubon Southwest): Per Steven, doing normal research studies. Ariel & Nick are new and are focused on working land programs: Audubon Conservation Ranching & Landowner Habitat Guides.
